UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES: DIPLOMAS

The units detailed in this handbook are available to be undertaken for credit towards an undergraduate diploma.

For entry to these courses, a pass in the VCE (or equivalent) is required, unless special permission is granted for 'provisional' entry. If previous studies have not been undertaken in English, students will be required to produce evidence of English language proficiency.

The purpose of your study and the depth at which you wish to explore will influence which pathway is right for you.

This material is only a summary. For more details see the University of Divinity website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Diploma in Theology

The Diploma in Theology is an entry-level award, which requires 120 credit points (8 units) and takes a minimum of one year and a maximum of four years to complete. Studies at this level seek to provide an overview of the Bible and an introduction to theological study. A Diploma in Theology prepares students for higher levels of study.

Course Structure: 120 points, including at least 2 units in each of Field B (Biblical Studies) and Field C (Christian Thought and History).

Advanced Diploma in Theology and Ministry

The Advanced Diploma in Theology requires 240 credit points (16 units) and takes a minimum of two years and a maximum of eight years to complete.

Course Structure: 240 points (16 units), including at least 1 unit in each of Hebrew Bible, New Testament, Church History and Systematic Theology; and an extra 2 semester units in either or both of Fields B and C. A student who has completed a Diploma in Theology may be granted credit or 120 points towards this award.

DIPLOMA PATHWAYS

The following specialised options are available for completing the Diploma in Theology.

NEXT

NEXT is designed for post-secondary students who are in transition between whatever is now to whatever is... well... next. The program caters for students aged 18 through to their mid-twenties in which spirituality academic study, cultural discernment, purposeful living and just-seeking opportunities are focused towards faith and ministry formation.

NEXT is a unique experience of spiritual formation and personal development tailor-made for emerging and young adults. The Core of NEXT comprises five units toward a Diploma in Theology.

TransFormation

The TransFormation program provides training for Church Leaders from all denominations of non-English speaking backgrounds. It combines study, spiritual growth, worship and community experience which are essential for the formation of Christian leaders. TransFormation is designed to help people overcome the obstacles of time, money and language that have previously prevented them from attending existing courses of college study.

The TransFormation program is open to women and men from culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) backgrounds who have their Church's support and encouragement. Lectures are in English with time for questions and sharing in your language group where possible.

The Diploma in Theology through TransFormation is offered part-time over 12 Saturdays a year. It generally takes most students four and a half years to complete, however, with extra work capable students can complete their diploma in three years.

Students must show they can successfully complete AL0103W English for Theology before enrolling in any other units offered through TransFormation.

12WATTS

The 12WATTS program has been set up to offer a Gap year to students before entering University or the work place but also for any young person searching after finishing Year 12. This program is run by Baptist Camping Victoria in conjunction with Whitley College and the Victorian Fitness Academy. This course will push you in body, mind and spirit with time for reflection. Students will live with the team at the Anglesea centres and be trained in outdoor activities (Certificate 4 Sport & Recreation; grounds; business admin) and first year diploma of theological study.

12WATTS students can complete five units towards a Diploma in Theology in their first year, and a complete diploma if in the program for two years.

CH0145W Discipleship through the Time Machine

Offered: 2017: Semester 1, Saturday mornings
[Unit offered alternatively as CT0145W]

This unit will focus upon ways in which people throughout history learned to shape their lives around Christian ideas, attitudes and values. It will examine the impact of social, political and cultural factors upon selected individuals' understanding and practice of Christian discipleship. An exploration of their experiences will help shed light upon:

- Life in the early church before Constantine;
- Living in a medieval world;
- The impact of reformation;
- Christianity in the light of modernity;
- Living the Christian faith in a post-modern World.

Upon successful completion of this unit, it is expected that students will be able to:

1. Identify different ways in which historical people shaped their lives as Christians from the time of the early church to the present;
2. Evaluate the impact of historical movements upon perceptions and practices of the Christian faith;
3. Demonstrate basic skills in interpreting selected historical sources.

Prerequisites: Nil

Class Time: Four hours per week over 9 sessions

DP0151W Discipleship and Purposeful Living (30 points)

Offered: 2017: Semester 1 – 2 [NEXT program students only]

This unit engages students in an integrative process of discipleship that encourages interdependent and constructive life practices reflecting the student's own expression of faith. Students are introduced to skills and practices that develop self-awareness, self-evaluation, critical thinking and deliberative action as well as the way these have been embodied in the spiritual practices of historic and contemporary religious groups. Specific attention will be given to students developing, identifying and accessing the various resources that might assist their current and future expression of faith, including spiritual practices, religious engagement and participation within supportive relationships and communities of faith.

Upon successful completion of this unit, it is expected that students will be able to:

1. Articulate an emerging appreciation of their own life-values and personal identity drawing upon resources from both the social sciences and the Christian tradition;
2. Identify and engage with spiritual practices that reflect the student's lived priorities and personal faith;
3. Evaluate a variety of personal, relational and institutional resources necessary for their current and future expression of faith.
4. Reflect upon the ways in which their lived priorities reflect personal faith, values and commitment;
5. Define the Christian concept of discipleship and explain its relationship to self-understanding and purposeful living

DP0155W Reflective Practice

Offered: 2017: Semester 1 – 2 [NEXT program students only]

This unit draws students into an action-reflection process to encourage critically engaged practice. Drawing upon the student's own experience in a supervised setting of mission, ministry, community or marketplace, the unit will introduce contexts, models and frameworks for theological and critical reflection, placement supervision, spiritual direction and personal maturity. Attention will be given to the evaluation of a range of experiences, situational dilemmas, acute incidents and the effectiveness of planned engagements. Skills of reflective practice, integrated learning, considered action, cultural and contextual appreciation as well as self-awareness will be emphasised

Upon successful completion of this unit, it is expected that students will be able to:

1. Reflect theologically on their cultural and contextual setting;
2. Engage in a mission, ministry, community or marketplace setting reflecting the skills and standards of ethical practice required;
3. Plan, implement and evaluate new activities that reflect integration of theoretical and practical learning;
4. Engage in supervisorial relationships.

Prerequisites: Nil

Class Time: Two hours per week

Teaching Methods:

The unit will normally employ an action-reflection process that may utilise some or all of the following delivery mechanisms:

- Theological and practical reflection on at least 96 hours of practice in an approved setting
- Formal placement supervision
- Personal coaching, mentoring and/or spiritual direction
- Small group participation
- Formal in-class instruction

Assessment:	Four 250 word journal entries of reflections	(30%)
	Three 500 word placement reports	(40%)
	One 1,000 word essay	(40%)
